United States Plan For Korean Peace Conference Adopted

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly today gave an overwhelming endorsement to an American-backed plan for the Korean peace conference despite vigorous Russian opposition.

The plan provides that only countries who fought under the U. N. banner should represent the world organization at the parley.

The vote was 43-5, with 10 abstaining. The Soviet bloc cast the negative vote. India did not participate.

Spared Sure Defeat
India averted a certain defeat by withdrawing as a possible participant just before the voting began.

With United States backing, the Assembly recommended that Russia could take part in the conference "provided the other side desires it." This means that, if Russia goes, she will have to sit on the Communist side with Red China and North Korea.

South Korea will sit with the U. N. delegation.

Today's action concluded the work of the special Assembly meeting which opened two weeks ago to choose U. N. representatives at the peace conference.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky, however, has given a veiled warning that the Communists may reject the Assembly's decisions and try to reopen the whole debate when the Assembly convenes its

Mother Accused Of Trying To Kill 6 Young Children
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 28-year-old mother, distraught over the arrest of her husband of a kidnapping charge, stands accused of trying to kill their six children by turning on the gas in their home.

Mrs. Vonelle Baggett was charged with attempted murder of the children, aged 1 to 9. Police found them unharmed Thursday. Her husband, William E. Baggett, 30, a carpenter, is in jail accused of trying to abduct a woman on the street.

Mrs. Baggett said she couldn't stand the neighbors' talk after her husband's arrest, weeping: "I didn't raise my children to live down this scandal."

CLINTON, Okla. (AP)—Donald Gowdy, of Borger, Tex., driving a speedy foreign car, told troopers who stopped him for traveling at 90 miles an hour that he was racing a small plane, trying to find out how fast it was going.

The plane turned out to be the highway patrol's Beechcraft, with trooper Art Hamilton dutifully clocking Gowdy's speed from the air.

Machine Brain Shown At U. M.

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Michigan unveiled its half-million dollar mechanical brain in a public showing at its Willow Run research center Thursday.

An orderly jumble of vacuum tubes, relay oscillators, teletype gadgets and push buttons, the brain was built for the Air Force to use in its guided missile research program. It also will be available to industries with tough mechanical problems to solve.

It counted up to $7,178,283.20 before an overload light lit up.

Technicians tried a fast one on it. They asked what numbers could be divided into 68,492,989, and the brain answered right back only 68,499,989.

Red Brutality Kept Up Until Armistice, Prisoners Report
PANMUNJOM (AP)—Returning American prisoners today accused the Communists of continuing brutality and torture right up to the armistice—but behind closed doors where they could not be seen.

Of 144 exuberant Americans freed from Red prison camps today, many were captured in the first few weeks of the war. Some said they had been beaten and tortured almost until the truce July 27.

The Communists also turned over 4 British, 2 South Africans and 250 South Korean prisoners.

The Communists promised to return 145 more Americans, 3 Turks, 2 Australians and 250 South Koreans Saturday.

Death March Described
Friday's delivery brought the number of Americans returned to 2,422 of the 3,313 the Reds said they held. The Reds have sent back a total of 9,819 of the 12,776 Allied POWs they listed.

Some Americans returned Friday told of an infamous North Korean death march early in the war when a French man was dragged through the streets of a town and shot. Pfc. Reuben K. Kimball Jr. of Baytown, Tex., said he watched the bitter spectacle. He said he saw the Reds kill 30 American prisoners, all but 13 of them wounded men.

Russia Heading For Revolution, Says U. S. Envoy

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—George Kennan, former American ambassador to Moscow and one of this country's top authorities on Russia, predicts a revolution there. But when? The most he can say: "Eventually."

"Plainly," he said this month, "the edifice of Soviet power is faced today with severe strains and crisis."

That there are deep discontents within the Soviet orbit was shown this summer by the riots in the satellites and could be perceived in Premier Malenkov's attempt to soothe the Russian people with promises of better living standards.

Study Just Issued
Further indication of this stress has just been supplied by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in a 92-page study, prepared by Russian experts at the Library of Congress, called "tensions within the Soviet Union."

But this study cautions: "An illusion against which one should be on guard is the conclusion that because dissatisfaction exists in Russia, therefore an armed and organized revolt is imminent there."

"It is even debatable that those who are dissatisfied would necessarily disaffect from the Soviet Union and its Communist regime in case of a military showdown with the West, particularly if no well-thought-out guidance and encouragement are given the dissenting element from outside."

In a foreword, the committee chairman, Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) demanded more earlier that the United States take measures to "prevent violations" of Russian territory by U. S. planes.

"Because these tensions exist," he said, "does not mean that" (Please Turn To Page 6, Col. 5)

Fugitive Communist Leaders Captured In Sierra Hideout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two fugitive Communist leaders and three alleged satellites charged with harboring them in a remote mountain hideout, were swept up in a dramatic capture Thursday by FBI agents posing as campers.

A fourth follower was picked up Thursday night, 100 miles away. All were jailed quickly—one of them in grim Alcatraz prison in San Francisco Bay.

Sixteen FBI agents in campers' blue jeans caught Robert George Thompson and Sidney Steinberg in a cabin 8,000 feet up in the rugged Sierra Nevada, about 200 miles east of San Francisco.

Hunted Two Years
Their arrest climaxed a relentless two-year manhunt.

Thompson, one of the 11 top Communist leaders convicted in 1951 of violating the Smith Act, was rushed to Alcatraz. He disappeared two years ago when ordered to report to Federal Court in New York for commitment for a three-year prison term.

The Smith Act is aimed at any person who conspires to teach or advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

Steinberg, indicted with 21 other "second string" Reds in 1951 on similar Smith Act charges, was jailed here on $100,000 bail. He will be arraigned for removal proceedings to face trial in New York.

Steinberg protested the bail was excessive. U. S. Commissioner Joseph Karesch replied "It isn't for a fugitive for such a long time."

The other three captured in the Sierra hideout were locked up in San Francisco County jail on $35,000 bail each. The FBI identified them as Carl Edwin Rasi, 40, a Minnesota Communist leader; Samuel I. Coleman, 42, of New York described as a veteran Red and leader in the Communist underground since 1951, and Mrs. Shirley Keith Kremen, 21, a reported leader of leftist activities in Los Angeles.

Caught By Surprise
Hours after the first five had been arrested, FBI agents picked up Patricia Blau, 42, near Stockton Calif., and charged her with harboring the fugitives.

The FBI said an automobile found in the mountain retreat was registered under one of Mrs. Blau's six aliases. She was described as a Canadian-born Communist organizer who was naturalized in New York last year.

Thompson was one of four top Communists who disappeared in 1951.

Another, Gus Hall, party secretary, was arrested in Mexico City.

Fire Hazard High Throughout State
LANSING (AP)—Michigan's wildlands are extremely dry. The Conservation Department today urged extreme care with fire throughout the state.

The department has cancelled existing fire permits and stopped issuance of any new ones in the southern Lower Peninsula. Durward Rbeson, chief of the field administration division, reported.

"There hasn't been a rain in the southern third of the state for two weeks," he said, "Rains farther north have not been enough to prevent a dry condition from developing there."

He said fire permits have not been cancelled in the north because that country is watched more closely from fire towers.

Fire permits are required for any open air burning in rural areas of the state except for fires for domestic purposes. They are issued by conservation offices and rural fire departments.

Income Tax Higher Than Payroll For Big Du Pont Firm
WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—The E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Co., world's largest chemical firm, reported today its income tax bill to the U. S. government was higher than its payroll for the first half of 1953.

Du Pont said it had set aside 233 million dollars to pay federal taxes, while wages and salaries paid employees amounted to 226 millions.

"If state, local, society security and other taxes had been included," Du Pont pointed out, "they would have added about 16 millions more to the tax bill."

Panama Wants More Canal Zone Rental
PANAMA, Panama (AP)—A delegation prepared to sail today for the United States to press Panama's demand for more U. S. rent for the canal zone. Backing them, thousands rallied in downtown Panama City Thursday night.

Negotiations between Panama and the United States on revision of the 1904 Panama Canal Zone Treaty will begin in Washington Sept. 10.

Under the 1904 pact, the United States paid $250,000 in gold annually for the 10-mile-wide strip of land bordering the canal. A later treaty made the annual payment of $430,000.

The 16 agents caught the fugitives by surprise in their two-story cabin not far from Yosemite National Park. They met no resistance.

The FBI said both Thompson and Steinberg declined to admit their identity, but in each case it was established by fingerprints.

Thompson was using the name of John Francis Brennan. He had driver's licenses from Illinois and Pennsylvania.

Steinberg was going under the name of Joshua Newberg and carried a business card as a violin teacher.

No Electric Chair For Girl Who Shot Ex-Lover's Sister
SOMERVILLE, Mass. (AP)—Mildred McDonald, 25, the pretty stenographer who admitted she killed the young sister of a man who left her to marry another, may not have to undergo a first degree murder trial.

That indication was given Thursday night by Middlesex County Dist. Atty. George E. Thompson, the man who would have to prosecute her.

Prominent Families
He said from his Vermont vacation spot that he had just completed studying "all aspects of the case and I am convinced the ends of justice will not be served by attempting to send this girl to the electric chair."

Thompson added: "This is a terrible tragedy involving two substantial, highly respected families of the community. The public is shocked by it. I will not seek a first degree murder indictment nor shall I press for capital punishment for her."

Thompson's statement to reporters followed a day filled with developments that were heart-breaking to both families involved

Giant B36 Bombers Make Test Hops To Russia's Back Door
TOKYO (AP)—The U. S. Air Force said tonight that giant B36 bombers flown to Japan this week under warlike secrecy are teaming with other warplanes in a "realistic combat-type" Far East exercise — within 700 miles of Vladivostok, a Russian stronghold base.

A mass flight of B36s, capable of carrying atomic bombs anywhere in the world, landed near Tokyo Tuesday after a trailblazing flight across the Pacific.

A second flight landed this morning for the exercise, dubbed "Operation Big Stick."

An official Far East Air Force release said the huge bombers are "conducting an operational training exercise in the Far East . . . involving realistic combat-type training missions."

A veil of secrecy hung over the operation and the Air Force would not reveal either the number of planes in the exercise or its duration.

It said, however, that heavy and medium bombers, reconnaissance aircraft and fighters are participating. These undoubtedly include planes and pilots that fought over Korea before the truce.

Maj. Gen. Walter C. Sweeney Jr., commander of the 15th Air Force, Strategic Air Command, is in Japan directing the missions.

Yokota Air Base outside Tokyo, where several B36s landed in Friday's flight is only 700 miles from Vladivostok, a key Russian port. More B36s landed at other undisclosed bases.

Ecuador Youths Drive To Detroit
DETROIT (AP)—"We are here!" That joyful shout came from three Ecuadorian college students who rolled into Detroit Thursday in a Model A Ford that covered 10,000 miles in four months.

They are Fausto Garcia, 22; Enidio Daza, 24, and Oswaldo Paez, 23, all from the small agricultural town of Ibarra.

They pooled $600 to buy the car, which they reported still was running fine after its journey over good roads, bad roads, no roads and jungles. But, they added, the $2,400 which they also pooled for expenses was all gone.

"We don't know how we are going to get back for the next term of school," Garcia told reporters. "But we are not worried. We are here!"

Shortly after their arrival the Ford Motor Co. welcomed the visitors and took them on a tour of the Ford Museum at Greenfield Village.

Revised Figures Reduce National Debt 2 Billions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders today hailed a new, downward curving Eisenhower administration budget as a step toward lower taxes and a clincher against raising the federal debt limit now.

The new budget scaled down by two billion dollars the estimates of just a few months ago on federal spending, the deficit and the national debt for this fiscal year, ending next June 30.

Legislation Not Needed
Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, pleased as punch, told a news conference Thursday:

1. Barring unexpected changes in the picture, it will not be necessary to call Congress back into special session to raise the federal debt ceiling.

2. The administration will propose a balanced budget for the next fiscal year.

3. Chances have lessened that further increases in total revenue will be proposed to reach that prime goal of the administration. But officials are considering all sorts of tax changes, including a national sales tax.

War Spending Peak Passed
The new budget showed the peak has passed in spending by the military forces. This year's cash outlays were listed at $41,700,000,000, two billion under last year's rate. But foreign aid and atomic energy spending will reach a new crest.

Records Broken By Soaring Heat
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More hot and dry weather was in prospect today in wide areas in the eastern half of the nation.

No general cooling or rain appeared in sight for at least a couple of days in the hot belt which extended from the Great Plains states to the Atlantic seaboard.

Weather records for the date again were broken in many cities Thursday. Temperatures soared into the 90's over most of the central part of the country for the third straight day.

St. Louis and Louisville sweltered in readings of 98. It was 97 in Chicago, Cincinnati and Cleveland. The East also got 90-plus temperatures with 96 in Philadelphia, 94 in Washington and 93 in New York. Boston escaped hot blasts and reported a cool 69.

Water shortages continued to plague suburban areas of Chicago. In Detroit the City Water Board appealed to users in the metropolis and 39 adjoining communities receiving water from the Detroit system to stop all nonessential use. Serious drops in pressure were recorded at the system's three main stations.

Bingo Is Back In Legal Form

Delta County's short recess from the bingo table is over and the game is being played in a new and legal form in which "voluntary contributions" at the close of games remove the illegal element of a charge or "consideration" to play.

Enforcement of the law against bingo as a form of gambling began Aug. 17. Voluntary compliance was anticipated by Prosecutor Nicholas P. Chapekis, who had previously informed sponsors of the game of the deadline.

New Form Legal

After the game was first played in its new or "voluntary contribution" form the prosecuting attorney wrote Attorney General Frank Millard and inquired:

1—If bingo is legal if no charge is made to play and a voluntary contribution is made after the game.

2—If this form of the game may also be played by veteran and other organizations.

Deputy Attorney General Arthur T. Iverson replied that gambling must include the three elements of 1—Consideration, 2—Prize, and 3—Chance.

He indicated that absence of any one of these elements makes the activity legal.

Under that ruling the game of bingo becomes legal when played without the element of consideration or charge.

Not For Theaters

"If a voluntary contribution is taken up afterward it is not against the law—but the contribution must be entirely voluntary," the prosecutor said.

The attorney general's office also noted in reply to the prosecutor's inquiry that there can be no distinction between individuals or organizations in application of the law. Therefore veterans and other organizations, as well as churches, could sponsor the modified or "voluntary contribution" type of bingo.

Theaters, however, will have to continue to refrain from sponsoring "employee nights" or other forms of lottery.

"The payment of a fee to enter a theater, and after seeing a picture, to have a drawing, is not legal because the payment is not voluntary," the prosecutor noted.

Record Heat Here Thursday

Temperature Thursday hit 85 and broke the old record of 84 for the date, S. E. Decker, U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist here, said this morning.

The previous record, over an 82-year period, was set Aug. 27, 1937, Decker said.

Thursday also equaled this summer's hottest days. July 20 and Aug. 20 also had temperatures of 85.

Wind Thursday was still predominantly a south wind blowing off the lake and cooling the city, Decker said. Following Wednesday's pattern, late in the day the wind veered and blew more from the west.

If Escanaba has a day when the wind blows mostly from the west, off the land toward the lake, temperatures may go to the high 80's or 90's, Decker said.

Humidity Unimportant

Decker said humidity didn't enter into our feeling of heat yesterday. "It was not an important factor," he said. Humidity at 7:30 a. m. was 79 percent and at 7:30 p. m. was 53 percent.

Temperature here Thursday night fell to 67. Marquette, which hit 94 Thursday, fell to 75 at night.

Coolest spot anywhere in this general area Thursday night was Green Bay, Decker said, where temperature dropped to 62 from a daytime high of 93.

Decker supplied a forecast of weather trends in the Michigan area during the next five days. U. P. temperatures will be about five degrees above normal, he said. In the southern part of lower Michigan temperatures will be about 10 degrees above normal.

Slightly Cooler

It will be a little cooler near Lake Superior Saturday. The balance of the state will cool slightly Tuesday or Wednesday.

There will be scattered showers near Lake Superior throughout the period. Total rainfall from these showers will average 1/2 inch.

More general scattered showers reaching down to the central and south parts of the state will take place Tuesday or Wednesday. Total rainfall from these showers will average less than one-tenth of an inch.

Larceny Control:

Alertness, Arrest Best Way To Halt Shoplifting

Alert sales people trained to detect shoplifters, plus cooperation of merchants in making complaints and testifying against persons arrested for such larceny is the best method of coping with shoplifting.

This was the information in brief supplied to Escanaba merchants last night by Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapekis and Safety Director Glen S. Leonard at a meeting arranged by the retail committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

Hugh Grow, Chamber of Commerce secretary, presided at the

Can Be Detained

"Don't let them talk their way out when you know a theft has been committed," Leonard advised the merchants. "Detain them and call an officer."

Prosecutor Chapekis detailed the law as it applies to adults and juveniles. If the individual is under 17 he is referred to the juvenile division of probate court for investigation as a juvenile delinquent.

While the merchant can detain the shoplifter it is best from the standpoint of prosecution if the arrest is made after the shoplifter leaves the store, for intent to steal must be established. An admission before witnesses or in writing will help support prosecution, Chapekis added.

Better Service Survey

The merchants through their retail committee chairman, Warren Morrison, arranged the meeting in an effort to halt the trend of increasing thefts from stores.

In other business the group was informed of a better service survey program offered through University of Michigan extension service by Charles Follo, Escanaba, U. of M. extension supervisor in the Upper Peninsula.

Ishpeming, Negaunee, Marquette, Iron River, Menominee, Sault Ste. Marie and St. Ignace merchants have sponsored such a survey, designed to determine why people do or do not trade in their areas for certain items, Follo said.

Festivities End Royce Park Season

Royce Park, city recreation department playground at S. 19th St. and 7th Ave. S., closed its season Wednesday with a 12:30 pot-luck lunch followed by games and contests.

A graduation ceremony closed the afternoon. Each child wore a white mortarboard "graduation" hat he made himself, and was presented a "diploma"—a wrapped stick candy.

Peggy Grenier, 220 S. 8th St., and Jackie Peterson, 706 S. 19th St., season point winners, won sweatshirts on which "Royce Park Champion" was printed. The point system was for game winners and cleanup and worked out very well, according to Bertha LaChapelle, playground director.

At day's end all season winners and cleanup committee members won points. At the season's close points were totaled and Miss Grenier with 108 points and Miss Peterson with 94 points took top honors. Carol Ann Coplan with 48 and Susan Vanlerbergh with 45 were runners-up.

Royce Park has been open under supervision the past 10 weeks. Very well-attended handicraft classes turned out between 550 and 600 articles, a park spokesman said. Each day a new craft was taught under the direction of Mrs. LaChapelle.

MHSAA Had Better Reappraise Its Entire Rules For Eligibility

THE Michigan High School Athletic Association buzzed off a hornet's nest in declaring three Upper Peninsula boys, two of them from Escanaba, ineligible and six Hastings High School boys ineligible for a year for accepting minor merchandise awards in non-high school athletic events.

In the case of the three Upper Peninsula boys, the MHSAA's ruling was particularly unjustified because the boys had been informed publicly that the golf event in which they participated was being conducted in accordance with MHSAA rules. With such assurances, the boys accepted merchandise awards valued at less than $2 each.

India Rejected For Seat At Peace Table

INDIA has been rejected for a seat at the Korean peace conference simply because the Indian government has maintained a completely unrealistic attitude towards the problems in Korea. If India had been permitted to participate in the treaty, the problem of reaching a satisfactory agreement would be even more difficult than it already is.

India purports to be a neutral nation in the cold war between the Communists and the Western powers. But India constantly throws her weight on the side of Russia. When Russia sold to India a small quantity of wheat needed in India to ward off starvation, the Indian government made great propaganda of it. But the United States donated to India much larger quantities of wheat and little mention was made of it in that country.

If India's viewpoint had prevailed in Korea, Russia today would be in complete domination of the country and the Korean people would be entirely subjugated.

Great Britain supported India's bid for a seat at the Korean peace conference but for purely selfish reasons. India provides a potentially tremendous market for Britain's goods, a market that was held by Britain when India was a part of the British Commonwealth. Britain desires to preserve as much of that market as possible. It is for the same reason that Great Britain advocates Communist China for a seat on the United Nations.

Russia has been granted a seat at the conference table but on the Communist side, not as a U. N. delegate.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

If you are one of the elect, your position in your walk of life is secure. You are above envy. In the social world you would be classed among the upper crust of "the 400." In the art world you are a Michelangelo; in music, a Mozart; in literature a Howells.

The distinction implied by the term was or religious origin—a person divinely chosen as of the highest worth. Equivalent to it, but without the religious implication, is the French term elite, which you may pronounce either ay-LEET or e-LEET. However, this is a term used more for a group of persons than for an individual. The social elite of a city, or even a village, are those who are prominent in social events; the elite of an army is the unit that is outstanding by virtue of some special quality.

To be a member of the intelligentsia (in-TEL-i-JENT-si-uh) implies merely that one is capable of thinking for oneself, is not dependent upon the views of some journalist or other person's opinions, especially on political matters. The term originated during the Russian revolution to distinguish those who regarded themselves as intellectuals rather than members of the middle class—the bourgeoisie (boor-zhwa-ZEE) or of the lower class or wage earners, the proletariat (PRO-le-TAIR-i-at). Nowadays intelligentsia is often applied to little bands of serious thinkers who speak vigorously upon almost any subject, but who, alas, lack much knowledge of that subject.

Fracture Victim Needs Aid Quickly, But Move Carefully

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

There are many causes for broken bones and few families escape this experience. A broken bone, or fracture, requires attention as soon as possible. A person with a broken bone should not move or be moved except with great care, as the fracture may be made worse by motion. Splinting with a board or some other rigid substance is advisable before moving.

If a person fractures the lower leg while wearing high boots, the boot should not be taken off until after reaching the hospital, as the boot itself serves as a sort of splint. The proper splinting and moving of a patient who has sustained a fracture may make a great deal of difference in the setting of the fracture and the time in which it takes to heal.

Once a person who has a fracture has been brought to the hospital, skilled care is important. X-ray films must be taken to show just where the fracture is and the position of the fragments. To do this, the X-ray films have to be "shot" from different angles.

If the two parts of bone can be brought together in good position, then healing should take place easily, especially in younger people. When the fragments are brought in proper position, the parts must

The Hastings High Schools boys, all members of a softball team, received inexpensive fishing rods from their sponsors.

The time is at hand when the high school association may well reappraise its entire policy concerning efforts to control the activities of high school youngsters in non-school events and particularly during the summer vacation period.

It would be well, too, for the high school association to reappraise the inconsistencies of its rules and regulations. A liberalization of its restrictions is in order. It can easily distinguish between amateurism and professionalism without the senseless regulations now in effect. And certainly the association can reassess its provisions for penalizing violations, taking into consideration such things as the severity of the violations, the intent of the violator and other extenuating circumstances.

A boy can receive an expensive outdoor motor in a fishing contest without jeopardizing his athletic eligibility but if he receives a two-bit fish hook as a prize in a golf tournament or as a member of a softball team, he invites a one-year suspension from all high school interscholastic athletics.

Does it make sense to you?

IMMIGRATION FROM ENGLAND

(Green Bay Press Gazette)

The English have not been filling their quota of immigrants into America, a surprising thing when compared to the rest of the world.

Perhaps the English love their own country too intensely to leave it. That is a nice thought but cynics dryly remark that the heavy obstructions laid by London upon transferring English money into dollars is the greatest deterrent.

However that may be, English girls are not at all averse to a voyage to this country as the wife of a young man in the American uniform. Baron Montague told the House of Lords recently that out of the present American Air Force in England of 35,000 men, of whom a third were already married, there were an average of 200 marriages a month with English girls. The noble gentleman figured that since the Air Force stays in England three years there would be about 7,000 marriages which he welcomed and approved heartily as a splendid promotion "to closer Anglo-American understanding."

Differing radically from the French the English have been good colonizers, sometimes willing to pioneer. This attitude must be recognized as a racial characteristic because certainly the English people are not driven from their land because of tyrants and an absence of those liberties that most civilized peoples regard highly.

The common language makes it easier for a boy and girl to meet and wed. And yet somehow, there seems to be no dearth of marriages of American personnel stationed in Germany, France, Italy or the Low Countries.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Now that Russia has the terrible H-bomb, Civil Defense authorities are rushing plans to evacuate every major city in the United States at the first warning of an air attack. For the stark truth is that Soviet bombers, streaking low over our radar at night, cannot be stopped.

While it's been decided to evacuate major cities, a lot of other problems remain unsolved and undecided. One of the biggest problems is how to get the advance warning in time to organize a mass evacuation. Even on short notice, however, Civil Defense experts still think the best solution is to alert the population to flee out of town as fast as possible.

Bomb shelters can be built to withstand the force of an atomic blast, but the scorching, searing devastation of a hydrogen explosion can reduce a city the size of New York to charcoal in one blow. As a result, Civil Defense authorities have decided it is no use to build shelters, more practical to concentrate on mass-evacuation plans.

In fact, Civil Defense has already tangled with the military behind the scenes over what to do with the people, once they are evacuated. Civil Defense planners prefer to let each individual work out his own problem, and drift back into town at his leisure after the danger is over.

Military leaders want to organize the construction and factory workers, however, so they can be whisked back into town at once to rebuild the blitzed factories or to resume production without delay if the town is spared.

SURPRISE RAIDS ARE EASY

Meanwhile, it is our air raid warning net that has Civil Defense officials worried. The Air Force has built an invisible wall of radar across the Canadian border and down both coasts. Each major city is also ringed with radar and antiaircraft guns. Only gaps are along our southern frontier, which is relatively safe from Russian long-range bombers.

However, it's revealing no secret that Soviet bombers flying low at night, could escape detection until right on top of the radar screen. Only then would our radar-guided night fighters start seeking them out and attacking them one at a time. While this grim game of hide-and-seek was going on, the majority of the bombers would be certain to get through to New York, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit, Washington—particularly if they crashed the radar wall at scattered points.

Of course, Air Force scientists are working feverishly in secret Boston laboratories to find a foolproof air raid warning system. They have invented one device, which should give the United States several hours advance notice of any suspicious flights over our route enemy bombers might take to the United States—provided the new device works. However, scientists fear that electronics equipment can be depended upon only half the time in certain climates.

As for the likelihood of a Soviet H-bomb attack, our experts are convinced the Russians have not yet consolidated the H-bomb ingredients into an actual bomb, though this is just a matter of time. Our own scientists have built a bomb, which is so large it can barely be squeezed into the bomb-bay of our biggest planes. However, it will be difficult to drop the bomb without destroying the plane that carries it.

Russia's long-range bomber, the TU-4, can be modified to carry an H-bomb in time. Meanwhile, the Russians could convert submarines into makeshift H-bombs that could be exploded along our coast, spreading radioactive spray that would kill all life for miles inland.

The Navy has posted picket ships, equipped with sensitive sonar devices, along the coast to listen for marauding submarines. However, even the Navy acknowledges that this sonar barrier is not foolproof.

Until a better warning net is invented, the Air Force argues that the best defense against a Russian H-attack is the power to retaliate. Only the Air Force has the means to deliver A-bombs and H-bombs to the Russian heartland. Just as Russian planes can penetrate our defenses Air Force planes can get through the Russian defenses by saturation raids—namely, hitting Russia from several sides at once.

Yet it was the Air Force, our first line of defense, that took the entire $5 billion defense cut.

Note—The Russian H-bomb explosion has jarred Secretary of Defense Wilson and Deputy Secretary Kyes into thinking they may have made a mistake cutting the Air Force so drastically.

Marble Halls Are No Dream To Artist Walter Russell, 82

ON A MOUNTAINTOP IN VIRGINIA, artist Walter Russell's 52-room marble "palace" sits regally in the midst of 629 acres of formal gardens, stables, guest cottages, and bridle paths.

By WADE JONES

SWANNANOVA, Va. — (NEA) — Thomas A. Edison and King Alphonso of Spain and Teddy Roosevelt and Mark Twain and Jack London and Richard Harding Davis should see what their old friend Walter Russell is up to now.

Russell, a handsome little man of 82 with a white Van Dyke beard, steel-rimmed glasses and a blue beret, is living with his British-born wife, Lao, a vivid woman in her 40s, in a 52-room marble "palace" atop a 2400-foot mountain.

The palace cost $2,000,000 to build back in the early 1900s. Much of the marble came from Italy. The New York architectural firm of Stone and Webster estimates it would cost $15,000,000 to build today.

The great formal gardens alone cost $500,000 originally. There are 629 acres of land in the mountaintop estate, stables big enough for a company of cavalry, guest cottages that look like little mansions, miles of hard-surfaced road, seven miles of bridle paths, and an 18-hole golf course, now a jungle of weeds.

In fact, the whole place was weeds five years ago. At this same time, in 1948, Russell and his bride of a few months were living in a two-room studio in New York, and apparently not living too well. The reason seemed to be that Russell had pretty much forsaken the painting and sculpting which had gained him considerable renown and many friends among the great of 30 to 50 years ago.

Just prior to the Spanish-American War he was art editor of a national magazine. Then he went off to war as a magazine illustrator and writer, and became close friends with Richard Harding Davis and Jack London in those years. Later he knew Thomas Edison and Mark Twain and did busts of them. President Teddy Roosevelt commissioned him to paint the Roosevelt children.

He set up studios in Paris and London and became pretty well known on the Continent. King Alphonso gave him a medal. He knew Rudyard Kipling and still has some letters from him. Back in this country he was commissioned by a magazine to paint "the 12 most beautiful children in America," which produced something of a sensation in the publishing field.

But somewhere along about this time Russell began to spread himself a little thin, artistically speaking. He composed some music and began writing on his philosophy of life and things spiritual. He even went into architecture.

This didn't seem to pay off too well, particularly the writing. But the writing brought something else—a wife. Attracted by what she had read of his works, Lao Siebman arranged to meet Russell. Five years ago they were married.

People around here have gotten the impression that Russell's wife has a fair-sized private income. But neighbors farther down the mountain say Mrs. Russell did an "enormous amount of work with her own hands" when they arrived here—helping patch roofs, scrubbing the great marble floors and ceilings, dusting out the cobwebs.

Swannanova was built back in 1912 by a Major James Dooley, fabulously wealthy former mayor of Richmond, Va., for his wife, who loved swans.

Mrs. Dooley died several years later and the place went to pot. Some Richmonders got together and made a country club of it. That folded in 1929. The understanding is that the Russells now lease it to their owners, a group of Charlottesville business men.

But the Russells are by no means alone these days in their mountaintop wonderland. Thousands of people come every year, at 50 cents a head, to peer through the fabulous palace and grounds, at the Tiffany-made stained glass window at the head of the marble staircase, at the astonishing view stretching down and away for miles and miles in all directions.

Others, mostly women, can be seen sitting on stone benches and gazing fixedly off towards a tall white statue of Christ, called "Christ of the Blue Ridge," which Russell carved and set up in the gardens behind the palace. Most of the women are among Russell's "students," who come from all over the country to study under him and meditate in an atmosphere most conducive to meditation.

The Russells live a simple but fairly opulent life now. The place is beautifully furnished. They have about 12 servants, including seasonal gardeners. You wonder where all the money comes from, but that is one of those things you simply don't ask your hosts.

Richard Harding Davis would probably ask. And so would Jack London. Not me.

THE LETTER—Michigan Railroads Association has as its legislative counsel Milton G. Schanupp, an affable gentleman who recently talked to the Rotary Club of Escanaba.

Following his talk this column presented certain comments to which Schanupp and the railroads might have taken exception. You will be interested in Schanupp's reaction and the additional information he supplies.

"We have a clipping of your comment in the Escanaba Daily Press on my talk at the Escanaba Rotary Club on Aug. 11. It was interesting and, may I say, helpful to me in shaping future talks in the course of our speaking program.

"I particularly liked your criticism about my approach, touching 'socialistic' and subsidy handouts.

"Frankly, I agree that the railroads, like every other endeavor, must win their spurs by service they themselves perform for the public, rather than by developing public opinion against handouts to competitors, be they socialistic or just New Dealish government interferences.

"As you so well pointed out, the railroads have no apologies and, aside from some spotty criticism about outmoded passenger equipment or some complaint about delays in handling small shipments, they might well point to the record of their own accomplishments."

THE TAX SUPPORTED—"As to the railroads being alone in the fight to preserve democracy, I think you will agree that while other transportation agencies are no less loyal to our principles of economy, all of them are maintained, one way or another in varying degrees, by taxpayers.

"To the extent that the ponderous truck increases cost of highway construction and maintenance and the two-thirds contribution by the Federal and State governments in airport construction, these agencies are tax-supported—call it subsidy or socialism.

"However, I do agree there is far too much beating of the drum about 'socialism.' Perhaps our problem is to resist invasion of Federal government into state governmental activity and private enterprise."

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE—"You mention nationalizing of railroads and my lack of figures.

"It is my aim to avoid too many statistics in these talks, but in view of your remark as to that I might henceforth mention the following:

"During War I when the government managed the roads the cost to the taxpayers for 26 months was two million dollars a day, whereas during World War II, under private direction, the railroads paid into the tax coffers three million dollars a day!

"It was not my purpose to make any plea for the salvation of the railroads from national ownership. I do not think the roads face any such danger.

"They do feel that public complacency, unawareness of the problem of the taxpayers providing more and more services heretofore supplied by private capital initiative raises a question of fair competition.

"Your comment was most fair and I appreciate it."

CONCLUSION—Escanaba is a "railroad town" as Mr. Schanupp probably well knows.

Its history began with the railroad in 1863 and its future depends greatly upon the continued economic health of the railroad system represented here. As the community's largest employer, the railroad is a vital factor in local economy.

Certainly everyone in this area is vitally interested in the continuing growth of the railroads, accomplished despite the annoying and sometimes injurious attentions of an over-zealous government.

Michigan Fishermen Get Action To Stop Kills By Pollution

LANSING (AP)—Irate fishermen demanded—and got—action from the State Water Resources Commission Wednesday night to stop a recent rash of fish killings caused by pollution.

In another hotly contested case, the commission moved to force the city of Adrian and industrial plants there to halt the dumping of aluminum wastes in the Raisin River.

Water Smells Bad

There have been complaints that the wastes were polluting the Blissfield water supply. A health department expert said the pollution could cause kidney disorders.

An angry fisherman shook a bottle of vile-smelling water taken from Dowagiac Creek, near Niles, under the noses of commission members.

"Smell this!" demanded E. R. Mason, representing the Bend of the River Conservation Club. "But if you get a whiff of it you won't want to eat for two hours after."

Representatives of the Edwardsburg and Howard township conservation clubs also attended the meeting.

Phenol In Creek

They complained that the New York Central Railroad allowed phenol wastes from its roundhouse at Niles to seep into Ely Creek, which feeds into Dowagiac Creek.

Hundreds of fish, some of them good-sized trout, were killed, they declared.

Railroad representatives said they were taking steps to take care of the wastes. The phenol is in a compound used to clean aluminum parts of locomotives.

The commission authorized preparation of an order to prevent recurrence of the pollution. It will be considered at the November meeting.

City Of Adrian Cited

The commission also is considering ordering the railroad to restock the creek with trout.

In the Blissfield case, Dr. C. W. Muehlberger, state health department pathologist, testified that the aluminum wastes, if taken in repeated doses, could cause kidney trouble.

Blissfield depends on the Raisin River for its water supply.

The city of Adrian, the Gerity-Michigan Corp., Buckeye Products Corp., Hurd Lock Co. and Bohn Aluminum and Brass Co. all were charged with allowing wastes to seep into the river.

The commission voted to ask the attorney general's office to prepare a brief directing the city of Adrian to show cause why it should not be held in contempt of a 1949 Lenawee County Circuit Court order forbidding the dumping of untreated sewage and dangerous industrial wastes in the river.

Inflation Pushing Living Costs Higher

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Like a delayed-action bomb inflation keeps pushing the cost of living higher here and there.

When the battle to save the paycheck from erosion appears won on one front, a little rise in the cost of something else confronts the keeper of the family budget.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey says that inflation has been halted by the administration's hard money policy, despite the fact that the cost of living index has just hit a new record high after rising for the last five months.

Rents Going Up

But it's the delayed action of the bomb planted in the days when inflation was very real that keeps tearing new holes in today's paycheck.

Rents go up here and there. For a long time they were braked by law. Now landlords feel they have a right to try to catch up with the rest of the economy, inflated some time back.

Prices of most commodities and raw materials are below their inflation peaks. But it's just now that the retail prices of the end products of some of these raw materials are showing the increased costs.

The same kind of delayed action from such things as rising labor costs and higher freight rates is also showing up now in retail prices — and particularly in the service industries.

Gas companies who have to pay more now for pipe, and for the labor of laying and repairing it, are asking higher rates. Electric utilities would like to pass on the higher price of copper. Gasoline prices go up — "increased costs," say the oil producers.

Deflation Main Problem

Inflation started at the primary level — with the prices of commodities and raw materials — and then with the labor that produces them and the products made from them.

This kind of inflation has been pretty well stopped, as secretary Humphrey says. In many instances deflation has set in. In others, like most foods, the price pattern is back to the normal one, rising and falling seasonally, or as supplies increase or shrink.

The secondary, and probably final, stage of inflation is what now keeps edging the cost of living index up.

At its present record high of 114.7 (1947-49 average prices equal 100) the index is 1.1 points higher than last February and 12.7 points higher than June 1950 when the Korean War started. But the cost of living is 90 per cent higher than it was on the old standard of average prices for the pre-war years 1935-39.

Most businessmen expect the index to stay as high or even going a little higher in the next few months. But they think that for the long-run deflation will be their main problem.

New Bids Asked To Build C123s

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has invited five firms to bid on producing C123 transport planes, but has emphasized that it has not definitely decided to order more of the assault transports.

An Air Force announcement Thursday said that invitations to submit bids by mid-September had gone out to Willlys Motors, Inc., Toledo, Ohio; North American Aviation Inc., Los Angeles; the Glenn L. Martin Co., Baltimore; Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., Burbank, Calif.

A decision on production is to be made after bids are studied. Willlys Motors is now part of the Kaiser-Frazer organization, which was producing C123s until last June 24, on a subcontract from Chase Aircraft Corp., Trenton, N. J.

The contract was cancelled on that date. Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbot said the contractors had never succeeded in turning out more than eight planes a month, instead of the 20 contemplated. Kaiser-Frazer then had a financial interest in the Chase firm.

At the same time the Air Force cancelled a contract with Kaiser-Frazer for production of C119 transports on grounds of production delays and high costs.

Kaiser Motors said today it has no intention of bidding on the C123 contract.

Edgar F. Kaiser, head of the firm said the leasing of a part of the company's Willow Run plant to General Motors Corp., left no space available for plane construction.

Detroit Edison Links Up With Canada For Electric Power Swap

LANSING (AP) — Two new power lines will link the friendly neighbors of the United States and Canada.

The Detroit Edison Electric Co., today had Michigan Public Service Commission approval of an agreement to swap power with the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission.

Under the plan, two transmission lines capable of carrying more than 115,000 volts will link the counties. One would cross the Detroit River to Windsor and the other would cross the St. Clair River from Marysville to Sarina.

Detroit Edison would be allowed to sell power to the Ontario commission any time the utility had excess power not required by its own customers. The Canadian utility would be allowed to sell to Detroit Edison any time it had excess power.

Jet Plane Plunges Into Lake Michigan; Body Not Recovered

CHICAGO (AP) — The Air Force said Thursday night the pilot of an F86D jet fighter plane which exploded and plunged into Lake Michigan earlier in the day was 2nd Lt. John William Wilson, 22, of Cincinnati.

Wilson, who leaves a widow, June, 21, has been attached to the 62nd Fighter Interceptor Squadron at O'Hare Field since Aug. 6.

The Coast Guard and Navy planes called off a futile search of an area about 10 miles from the Great Lakes Naval Training center for Wilson's body or wreckage of the plane.

Ohio Boy, 17, Tumbles To Death In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A vacationing Defiance, Ohio, high school boy plunged to his death Thursday night or early today from his room in the YMCA Hotel, 826 W. Wabash Ave.

He was James Doody, 17, who came to Chicago recently with a friend, Paul Layman, 18, also of Defiance. Police said they believe Doody, whose body was found on a concrete areaway, the head partly crushed, had fallen from his 10th floor room window.

Layman told police he was asleep all night and could not recall Doody coming into the room. Layman said Doody played football at Defiance and had been graduated in June. He was to enroll in the University of Toledo on a football scholarship next month.

Two Shot By Detroit Man Called Hillbilly

DETROIT (AP) — Two persons were shot and seriously wounded today by a man who told police they called him a hillbilly.

Franklin A. Folner, 30, of suburban Rockwood, and Miss Marion Tinsley, 21, of Melvindale, were taken to Wayne County General Hospital.

Arnold Crowley, 21, arrested after a police chase, admitted the shootings.

"They laughed at me because of the way I talk," Crowley complained. "Folner called me a hillbilly and Marion laughed."

Crowley said he shot the pair at Miss Tinsley's home after an all-night drinking party. He came to Detroit seven months ago from South Carolina.

THEIR SON'S ALIVE — Holding a telegram which carried the numbing word that her son, Marine Pfc. Donald K. McCoy had been killed in action in Korea, Mrs. Walter Freind clings to her husband after being roused from bed at Muskegon, Mich., with the wonderful message that her son not only is alive, but was one of the prisoners of war returned to Panmunjom that day. Democratic Dinner Chairman Resigns

CHICAGO (AP) — A dispute over plans for the Sept. 14 $100-a-plate Democratic dinner ended today with John J. Kelly, the dinner chairman, handing his resignation to Stephen A. Mitchell the party's national chairman.

Neither Kelly nor Mitchell would comment immediately on the rift. Kelly phoned a bare announcement that he had resigned because his "ideas conflicted with those of Mitchell."

Mitchell said he had given his word to Kelly that he would not disclose the details of the difference.

Mitchell said he has not selected a successor to Kelly. The honorary chairman of the dinner is Mayor Martin H. Kennelly of Chicago.

A source close to both men said he believed the crucial argument concerned Mitchell's insistence that senatorial candidates in next year's elections be given the limelight. Mitchell announced shortly before Kelly's resignation that Sen. Guy Gillette of Iowa would serve as toastmaster of the dinner.

Selection of Gillette as ringmaster eliminated such top possibilities as former President Truman and former Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

Fur Union Boss Indicted For Lie

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury here today indicted Ben Gold, fur workers union president, on charges that he lied when he swore in an affidavit to the National Labor Relations Board in August, 1950, that he was not a Communist.

Immediately after the perjury indictment was returned, the Justice Department announced a warrant had been issued for Gold, a New Yorker, and that the government will ask that his bond be set at $10,000.

Gold is head of the International Fur and Leather Workers Union of the United States and Canada. This union was ousted from the CIO in 1949 on grounds that it had been infiltrated by Communists.

In the NLRB affidavit, Gold asserted he was not then a member of the Communist party, that he had no affiliation with it, and did not support its policies.

The indictment charged that all of these statements were false.

Under the Taft-Hartley Act, union officials are required to file non-Communist affidavits if their unions are to use the services of NLRB.

While returning from his North Pole discovery in 1909, Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary predicted "the aviators will be up here." Now daily flights are made over the area. Peary was also among the first to prophesy the importance of military supremacy in the air, says the National Geographic Society.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market held fairly steady today with a narrow mixture of gains and losses.

Most price changes were in the smaller fractions. There were some outstanding exceptions, but these didn't influence the general trend.

Trading was moderate at a pace around a million shares for the day. Thursday's total was 1,290,000 shares.

Railroads held steady or tended to be a little higher. All other sections were steady to narrowly mixed.

Among higher stocks were Southern Railway, 20th Century-Fox, American Telephone, American Cyanamid, Bethlehem Steel and United Aircraft.

Lower were U. S. Gypsum, Kennecott Copper, Dome Mines, Du Pont, American Woolen, General Motors, and Philco.

U. S. government bonds were steady.

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee. Both men are scheduled to make "brief remarks" at the dinner.

Mitchell had told a newsman, before Kelly, a Chicago lawyer, resigned, that he hoped the dinner and its accompany two-day conference of party leaders would stress discussion of agricultural policy and "serve as a springboard" for the drives of Democratic senatorial candidates.

Pentagon Issues Last Korean War Casualty Lists

WASHINGTON (AP) — The last daily casualty list of the Korean War has been sent out by the Pentagon, one month after the firing ceased along the Far Eastern battle front.

By the time list No. 889 is published on Aug. 31, all but a few of the 142,277 American killed, wounded or missing in Korea will have been identified by name and category of casualty.

The military services are still holding back from publication a handful of casualty notifications because of failure to locate the next of kin.

Although the Pentagon has discontinued both its weekly summary of casualties and the daily lists, the rechecking of casualty information will go on for months and possibly years until the Defense Department closes its books on the third costliest foreign war in U. S. history.

It was not until this summer that the Army issued a final report on its World War II casualties. The last casualty summary reported 8,529 current missing. The Communists originally agreed to return 3,313 American prisoners. In recent days the Reds indicated they would turn back an unspecified number of Americans who were captured in the final days of the conflict and were not counted in the agreed exchange totals.

The gap between 3,000 odd and 8,529 may never be accounted for to the full satisfaction of the U. S. government.

They covered 10 areas of Russian life: Youth, intelligentsia, religious groups, minorities, Red army, women, workers, collective farmers, and forced labor. The study said:

"Perhaps the greatest area of tension in the Soviet Union—that is, in terms of numbers involved—lies within the youth group, normally thought of as a thoroughly indoctrinated sector of Soviet society, filled with enthusiastic members of the various Communist youth organizations."

Wife Good Cook, But Candy Bars Spoil Husband's Appetite

CHICAGO (AP) — The route to a man's heart is via his stomach, but what if the road is blocked with candy bars?

That puzzler confronted Circuit Judge Robert Jerome Dunne Thursday in the suit of Mrs. Barbara Trepina, 36, for divorce from Emil Trepina, 38, whom she accuses of cruelty.

She said she spends nearly a whole day preparing a tasty meal but Emil eats candy bars in the afternoon and comes home with no appetite.

Judge Dunne observed, "A husband should show more of an appetite, especially when he has a gem of a cook."

The judge directed Trepina to take his wife to lunch in a restaurant to see how much better her cooking is. He continued the hearing until Sept. 17 to see how his proposed solution works.

Speedy Building Bee Launched In Flint Tornado Ruin Area

FLINT (AP) — With a volunteer work force of 2,225 pledged for "Operation Tornado," sponsors expressed hope that twice that number would step forward today for what is billed as "the nation's biggest building bee."

The object of "Operation Tornado" is to rebuild Saturday and Sunday as many as possible of the 186 homes flattened by the devastating, death-dealing tornado that struck here June 8.

All labor will be donated. Owners who wish their homes restored in the bee must have materials available when the volunteers arrive.

Building supply firms have offered discounts. Unions, newspapers and radio stations are backing the undertaking.

Gypsy Queen Sick At Benton Harbor

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Trailer loads of gypsies headed back to Benton Harbor again today after their queen, Mrs. Anna Mitchell, 56, suffered a relapse.

Mrs. Mitchell was in critical condition at Mercy Hospital. She suffered a stroke early this month. Last Tuesday, after she seemingly was well on the way to recovery, 22 trailer loads of clan members scattered to their homes around the country.

Revised Spending Budget Cuts U. S. Debt By 2 Billion

$72,100,000,000 this year; receipts of $68,300,000,000, leaving a deficit of $3,800,000,000 and a national debt at the end of the year of $271,100,000,000. The legal debt limit is 275 billions.

Those figures compare with a May estimate by Eisenhower that spending would pass 74 billion and the deficit would pass 5 1/2 billion, and a July forecast that the debt would wind up two billion higher.

Deficit Trimmed
The budget was 6 1/2 billion below the spending program outlined by former President Truman in his final budget message to Congress last January. It was 2 1/2 billion below actual spending in the year ended last June 30.

The deficit was six billion less than forecast by Truman and 5 1/2 billion less than last year.

From the standpoint of total cash income and outgo, including social security funds and other trust accounts not counted in the regular budget, the deficit was estimated at only one-half billion dollars.

That is the figure economists usually choose in measuring the effects of government finances on inflation. Humphrey said the cash budget actually may be balanced under President Eisenhower's recent order for still further economies.

More Telephone Workers Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — An estimated 10,000 telephone workers in the Washington area and in West Virginia went on strike today to join thousands of Communications Workers of America members already striking in seven other states.

The Washington-West Virginia walkout began at 5 a. m., EST after negotiations with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. broke down Thursday night.

Farrell J. Beaver, special union representative, said the strike call affected 7,000 workers in Washington and its suburbs and 3,000 in West Virginia.

"Picket lines are going up at every telephone installation in the area," he said.

The union is seeking pay boosts of from $2 to $3 a week, while the company is reported to have offered raises of from $1.50 to $2.50 for the workers whose wages now range between $4.50 and $7.50.

Most chilled soups—except the fruit type—benefit from a sprinkling of minced parsley or chives. Add the parsley or chives after the soup has been ladled into the cups or bowls, sprinkling them over the surface so as to make a pretty green garnish.

Approval Expected On REA Loan Application

In presenting his annual report at the annual meeting of members of the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative Association here Wednesday, Wynand Nieuwenkamp presented some information regarding the co-op's plans for a power generating plant.

"Thus far," he stated, "our negotiations with the Mead Corporation and the Upper Michigan Power and Light Co., indicate that we will be able to work things out with them. We believe that our negotiations with the City of Escanaba on contractual matters are coming along satisfactorily. When both of these matters are settled, we believe that the Administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration will approve the loan."

Other reports given during the day included that of the Secretary-Treasurer Harry Sederquist and the Auditing Committee's report given by Edwin P. Johnson, director from Perkins.

A total of 333 persons attended the annual meeting.

The invocation was by the Rev. Matt LaViolette and City Manager H. J. Henrikson presented a brief message of welcome.

In addition to the three regular full-time directors named, two advisory directors were named for one-year periods. They are William Ahti of Cornell and Fardine Derouin of LaBranche.

"Plan Sound"

Joyce Poitras Becomes Bride Of New Yorker

A wedding of interest to local residents is that of Miss Joyce Anne Poitras, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Poitras, Painted Post, N. Y., and granddaughter of Mrs. August Feldt, Gladstone.

Miss Joyce Anne Poitras became the bride of Harold Newton Paul of Woodhull, N. Y., in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Carl J. Grabb at the Painted Post Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon, August 22.

Mr. Paul is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Paul, for many years residents of Woodhull.

Organ music was played by Mrs. Fred Stevens and Mrs. Alan Dawson sang.

Mrs. Donald W. Piersons, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, while Miss Joyce Stenger and Miss Lois Brooks, both of Painted Post were the bridesmaids. Flower girl was Pamela Ungvasky, niece of the bridegroom and ring bearer was Donald Piersons, nephew of the bride.

Merle Harrington of Woodhull, a fraternity brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Charles Davis and Thomas Gordon, both of Woodhull.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white embroidered imported organza ankle length gown, the bodice of which was designed with regal neckline and fitted basque to the waist. The skirt was fashioned with bouffant fullness edged with scalloped embroidery around the bottom. She wore matching long lace mitts which ended in points over the wrists. A crownless embroidered organza cap held her fingertip scalloped nylon veil and she carried a crescent of carnations, stephanotis and ivy. Her single strand of pearls was a gift of the bridegroom.

The matron of honor was dressed in embroidered organza with off-shoulder effect and short sleeves. The full bouffant skirt of the gown was over Nile green taffeta and was ankle length, worn with white linen pumps. A head band of ivy and flowers, lace mitts and a bouquet of contrasting color flowers completed her outfit.

Dresses of the bridesmaids were identical to that of the matron of honor and the bride except that the organza was worn over mauve taffeta. Their headbands and bouquets were similar. All wore pearl chokers, gifts of the bride.

At the reception in the Imperial Club House in Painted Post for 150 invited guests, the bride's mother received.

The couple left for a wedding trip by motor for two weeks to an undisclosed destination.

The bride is a graduate of the Painted Post High School, attended the University of Michigan, graduating from Buffalo General Hospital in September, 1952. She is now employed at Corning Hospital.

Her husband graduated from Woodhull Central School and Bowling University in 1950. He was a member of the Chi Alpha and Alpha Sigma Phi fraternities. He spent 24 months with the U. S. Army Signal Corps with 18 months in Korea. He is now a member of the faculty of Hornell High school.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Paul will make their home in Woodhull.

Hutch Not Going In For Pitching

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—One of the things the Detroit Tigers will need next year is a shot in the pitching arm.

But they're not going to get it from manager Fred Hutchinson.

Hutch made his first appearance as a pitching-manager Thursday.

"I'll go in to clean up a few games, like today," he said, after his Tigers had taken a 12-5 lacing from the Washington Senators.

"But I have no plans on being a full-time pitcher."

Hutch pitched the last two innings and gave up only one hit—a triple—while holding the Senators scoreless. It was the first time he had pitched since taking over as a Detroit manager last year.

Catcher Matt Batts thinks his boss ought to try it more often.

"He had a world of stuff," said Batts. "He's the only pitcher on the team who can throw a screw ball, you know."

Hutch, who is 34, said his arm felt fine but thought it was too much for one man to pitch and run a ball club.

"You can't do both," he said. "You've got to think about too many things out there on the mound."

Hutch came in too late. By the time he took over, the Tigers were on the short end of a 12-4 score.

Washington sewed up the game with seven runs in the first inning, two in the second and three more in the third. After that, rookie Bob Miller and Hutch stopped them.

In the opening inning, Washington got eight straight hits, falling one short of the American League record. The Boston Red Sox made 9 straight hits June 5, 1929.

The big blow of the first inning was a three-run homer by Gil Coan, his first home run of the season.

Eddie Yost reached base six straight times for Washington—on a single, double, triple and three walks.

Bob Nieman and Steve Souchock carried Detroit's hitting load. Nieman had a single, double and home run, while Souchock had a double plus a three-run homer.

Ralph Branca, knocked out in the riotous first inning, suffered his fourth loss against three wins.

Race Is Tight In Association

By The Associated Press

With the windup of the American Association's 1953 pennant race only 17 days away, a mere 4½ games separate front-running Toledo and fourth-place Indianapolis.

Runners Louisville is only two games off the pace, while third-place Kansas City trails by four.

Kansas City Thursday night jammed all of its scoring into the seventh inning to defeat Toledo, 3-2. Indianapolis tightened up the race by downing Louisville, 9-8, and fifth-place Minneapolis walked last-place Charleston, 11-5.

In the night's final game, Columbus tipped St. Paul, 12-11.

Gene Conley, Toledo's star right-hander, was bidding for his 22nd victory and was leading Kansas City's rookie pitcher Rip Coleman 2-0 when the Blues broke out with three game-winning runs. Coleman fanned 11 and walked only two as he gained his eighth victory.

Emeralds Plan Busy Program

MANISTIQUE — A starting lineup for the opening football game here Friday night, Sept. 4, against Stephenson will probably be picked next Wednesday, it is reported by Richard Bonifas, Manistique high school grid coach.

In preparation for the opening clash, two practices will be held daily next Monday and Tuesday—at 1:30 and 6, Bonifas said. Next Wednesday night there will be a "warm-up" session in the Hall stadium under lights, and the final pre-game workout Thursday will be devoted to signal drills and a "chalk" talk.

Included in the practice program this week was a 32-minute intra-squad game Wednesday night as a feature of a high school football clinic in Hall stadium. Final workout this week will be Saturday morning.

Coach Bonifas said yesterday that he is fairly well set now on his quarterback for the season. Don Tiegals, a letterman from last year, has been drilling for the post and it looks now like Jim Cowman will share the slot with him. Both men are fair passers and good blockers, Bonifas said. Tiegals weighs about 150 pounds, Cowman about 165.

One promising guard already has been lost for this season because of injuries, the coach said. Eddie Leonard fractured his ankle in scrimmage and will be unable to play. Bonifas, however, expects big things this season from his linemen, most of whom are veterans, and is hopeful that his "green" backfield also will be able to deliver the goods.

Caliber of the Stephenson team, while not certain, is expected to be up to its usual toughness, Bonifas reported. "The Steves have a heavy line, experienced ends and at least one fast back."

Game time next Friday night is 8:30.

Champ Dodgers Pile Up Flock Of Personal Playing Records

By BEN PHILEGAR AP Sports Writer

On the way to their second straight National League pennant the Brooklyn Dodgers are writing a flock of personal all-time best performances into the history of the colorful club.

The second straight flag—a virtual certainty now with a 9½ game lead and 28 games to play—will be a record in itself for the Dodgers. They've won the league title seven times but never twice in a row.

Gil Hodges hit a Brooklyn record of 40 homers in 1951. With 28 so far, he will have to hustle to top that but Duke Snider with 33 and Roy Campanella with 32 have a good chance.

Homers Come Handy

The club record of 130 runs batted in is in danger since Campanella has 115, Hodges 111 and Snider 103.

Snider and Carl Furillo bettered their previous all-time highs in home runs Thursday in the Dodgers' 7-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Snider hit a pair to put him two over his 1950 total of 31 and Furillo hit his 19th, which bettered

On the way to their second straight National League pennant the Brooklyn Dodgers are writing a flock of personal all-time best performances into the history of the colorful club.

The second straight flag—a virtual certainty now with a 9½ game lead and 28 games to play—will be a record in itself for the Dodgers. They've won the league title seven times but never twice in a row.

Gil Hodges hit a Brooklyn record of 40 homers in 1951. With 28 so far, he will have to hustle to top that but Duke Snider with 33 and Roy Campanella with 32 have a good chance.

Homers Come Handy

The club record of 130 runs batted in is in danger since Campanella has 115, Hodges 111 and Snider 103.

Snider and Carl Furillo bettered their previous all-time highs in home runs Thursday in the Dodgers' 7-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Snider hit a pair to put him two over his 1950 total of 31 and Furillo hit his 19th, which bettered

Spartans Still Have 21 Lettermen Back

This is the third in a series of three stories on the past, present and probable future of the national champion Michigan State football team. AP sports writer Bob Voges has been covering MSC since Coach Biggie Munn took over in 1947.

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—"The national champions have graduated," says Coach Biggie Munn when talking about the upcoming Michigan State football season. "We won the title in 1952, but this is 1953."

Munn, who has never yet been known to be cheerful before the season starts, points to the loss of 21 lettermen through graduation. But the Spartans still have 21 lettermen returning.

The varsity squad, which will start practice Tuesday, has 64 rugged entries. There's still plenty of beef on the hoof at the "cow college."

The probable Michigan State starting backfield this fall will consist of four lettermen who became known as the "pony" backs of last year.

None Over 180

The four are all fast, hard-hitting football veterans. But not a one of them weighs more than 180 pounds. So the big question is whether they'll be able to stand up under the pounding of two-way football.

Tommy Yewic, a seasoned senior from Conemaugh, Pa., is the first choice to start at quarterback.

His understudy probably will be Earl Morrall of Muskegon, who quarterbacked a squad composed mostly of sophomores to an upset win over the regulars in an intersquad game this spring.

Billy Wells of Menominee, workhorse of the team last year, is scheduled to go at right half. Wells carried the ball 118 times last season, racked up 585 yards and scored six touchdowns.

His running mate at left half will be Flint's Leroy Bolden, who rushed for 414 yards and made nine touchdowns last season. Even Slonac, who accounted for 382 yards and four touchdowns and did the extra-point kicking, is slated for fullback.

Shock Troop System

Jimmy Ellis, the flashy Saginaw safetyman, is sure to be pushing the starters. Right half Bert Zagers of Cadillac and fullback Gene Lekenta of Grand Rapids are the other backfield lettermen returning.

Most guess now appears to be that Michigan State will use the shock troop system this fall, putting in one complete eleven for a while and then resting the starters and throwing a fresh team at the opposition.

Michigan State is expected to concentrate on the offense this fall—on scoring touchdowns. With the deep reserves of manpower at MSC, it figures that the coaches can afford to sacrifice defense for mobility.

The Spartans may allow a few touchdowns but they'll figure on wearing down and outscoring their opponents.

Munn is too canny a coach, however, to confine himself to any one narrow plan of attack. Each game presents its own problems and you can expect something a little different each game. Biggie likes to play them out at a time.

Don't Bet Against 'Em

The coaching staff is a little worried about the first two games this fall. Both are on the road—against Iowa and Minnesota—and that means the travelling squad will be limited to just 38 players.

Following the two road trips, the Spartans play Texas Christian, Indiana, Purdue, Oregon State, Ohio State, Michigan and Marquette, in that order.

The Ohio State and Michigan games on successive Saturdays will probably decide Michigan State's Big Ten title chances.

How will Michigan State do this fall?

The best answer is the old advice—never bet against the champ.

Annual Men's Tourney Starts This Weekend At Escanaba Golf Club

Approximately 40 golfers of the Escanaba Golf and Country Club will compete in the annual men's championship tournament which will get underway on the local course this weekend.

Today is the last day for qualifying for the event. Players who desire to enter but who have not as yet qualified may telephone the golf professional, Eddie Ernst, and request to be entered with their average 18-hole score based on the season's play.

Sixteen players will comprise the championship flight. The eight losers in first round play then will comprise the first flight.

Other flights also will consist of eight participants each.

Complete pairings will be published on this page tomorrow. First round matches must be completed by Sunday, second round matches by next Friday, third round matches by next Saturday or Sunday (Labor Day weekend) and the finals will be played on Labor Day Monday.

About 35 have qualified thus far, and it is expected that from five to 10 more will get under the wire before pairings are drawn at the clubhouse tonight.

Letters To The Editor

To the Readers of the Sport Page: Why Did Leo Knauf Strike Ted Faser?

I understand there has to be a background for such an action. One person does not deliberately step up to another, and, for no reason at all, strike him. There has to be a reason behind it. What did Ted Faser say to Leo Knauf to make him lose his temper and strike him?

We accept the rights and have a lot of RESPECT for a man who is maimed. BUT when that man uses his condition as a mask to hide behind so he may hurl invectives at another, believing that no one will hit a cripple, I think there should be something done about it. I do not mean to say that one should hit him, but I think some steps should be taken to prevent the continuance of such obscenity on any field of sport.

What kind of sportsman is the commissioner of the Tri-County League? Is he playing fair in suspending one member? Apparently he can see only one side of any story. Even when I was little, I was taught that there are two sides to every story.

Irish Lead UN Flag Fight In California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Irish music and a parade of Senators carrying a Hibernian flag prevented the United Nations flag from being banned in California.

The ban was asked by Sen. Jack B. Tenney (R-Los Angeles) who said the U. N. flag was "a symbol which represents an enemy in the U. S., the Soviet Union x x x and had involved the U. S. in the Korean war."

Sen. Gerald J. O'Gara (D-San Francisco) said the U. N. was "our last best hope for peace."

Then Sen. James E. Cunningham (R-San Bernardino) led the flag parade and Tenney's motion was lost.

Find Buried Pipes With Divining Rods

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP)—Children have found buried pipes with homemade "divining rods" made from coat hangers. They hold two coat hanger rods in front of them and walk slowly around their home. When they come to a buried pipe the two wires slowly are pulled together and cross over the spot where the pipe is buried.

It has something to do with electro-magnetic action. But the children don't care about any high - flown scientific principles, it's just plain fun.

Laxity Charged On Figy's Staff

WILLIAMSTON (P)—The failure of the State Agriculture Department laboratory to discover that race horses were doped was one of the reasons for the firing of former Director Charles Figy, a State Agriculture Commission director said.

"It wasn't the main cause but it was one of the many things that built up over the years," said Clarence B. Smith of Williamston, one of the commissioners who joined the 3-2 majority that ousted Figy.

Smith, a Democrat, said if the firing of Figy was political "he would have been fired years ago." The Agriculture Department laboratory tested the urine and saliva samples taken when doping was suspected.

"Loaded" samples, full of dope, were sent up for testing when reliability of the tests was questioned. The laboratory returned negative reports and the testing was switched to a private firm in Chicago. Smith said, "There was low morale in the department and internal friction. It all built up over a period of years."

Seek To Learn More About Ocean Depths

NEW YORK (P)—The black, freezing depths two miles down in the North Atlantic are being artificially reproduced in a downtown New York skyscraper.

Western Union engineers duplicate conditions of the ocean bottom, where no divers have dared to venture, by chilling a 125-gallon tank with 3,300 pounds of ice. The tank they use weighs five tons and has four - inch - thick steel walls.

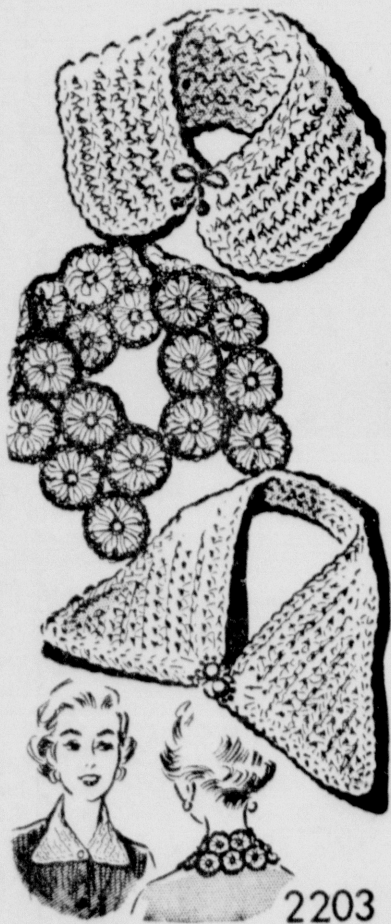

The purpose of the experiments is to test delicate undersea cable amplifiers used in Western Union cables on the ocean floor.

Birthplace Of Ike Gets Water In Sink

DENISON, Tex. (P)—The Denison house where President Eisenhower was born will get running water for the first time.

The city council agreed to extend a line from a hydrant in the yard to the kitchen sink. This was asked by women serving as hostesses of the home—now a showplace.

The ladies hope some day a restroom will be installed. The Eisenhower birthplace plumbing is of the outside variety.

Administration's New Policy Adds Sparks To Power Fight

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY WASHINGTON (CQ)—A highly charged lobby battle, expected to have its political counterpart in 1954 elections, is apparently picking up extra voltage following announcement of the Administration's new electric power policy.

Spokesmen for public power groups interviewed by Congressional Quarterly generally attacked the policy, which would place more responsibility for local power development in local hands. Private utility interests, on the other hand, evidently favored the policy.

Both sides were agreed the policy statement adds fuel to the fight over public vs. private power development, and predicted it will be a specific political issue in 1954.

They expect to have plenty of opportunity to make their views known to Congress at its next session, when several power issues will be up for debate. Among the bills to be introduced is a bill for private development of Niagara River power. This measure already has House approval and has stirred red up a fight in the Senate, where hearings on it are to reopen in January.

Return To Power Trust?
With Congress in recess, the policy statement brought little immediate reaction from Capitol Hill but Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said Aug. 19 the policy would be "destructive" of public power operations, and would return the nation to the "power trust" days of 1933.

Kefauver is a member of the public power bloc in Congress, which is generally composed of Congressmen from areas where public power is important to the local economy—such as the Tennessee Valley and the Pacific Northwest.

Reaction of these legislators may parallel that of the public power lobbyist who said the new policy is an "abdication of government responsibility."

Clyde T. Ellis, ex-Congressman (Democrat) from Arkansas who heads the Rural Electric Cooperative Association, who made this statement, also said:

"As I understand the new policy, the Department of Interior, and perhaps other government agencies, will now encourage commercial utilities to build hydroelectric projects and transmission lines to carry power away from the projects. While the new policy states that local agencies will be encouraged, this will mean only the power companies in most cases. Usually they alone are large enough to build and to participate in the benefits."

State Controller Steadman Resigns

LANSING (P)—The resignation of State Controller Robert F. Steadman has been accepted "with profound regret" by Gov. Williams, the Executive Office said.

Steadman, who has been controller since Jan. 1, 1949, will return to Wayne University as professor of public education. He has been on leave from the university since he was appointed to the $12,000 a year job by Williams.

The governor credited Steadman with taking over the new Department of Administration and making it "an effective organization for public service with high morale."

The Republican Legislature has had repeated squabbles with Steadman and his department, which among other things controls the writing of the state budget, the supervision of state building, and estimating future state revenue.

Ellis is also chairman of the Electric Consumer Information Committee, a Washington group which serves to coordinate the lobbying efforts of public power advocates all over the country. Certain other ECIC members share Ellis' reaction.

One of them, however, the American Public Power Association, is adopting a "wait and see" attitude before commenting.

A pressure group sympathetic to public development of power—Americans for Democratic Action—has said the new policy will "permit a strangle-hold on power development and distribution." ADA officials also believe the new policy will result in less power, higher costs to consumers and curtailment of production of aluminum and other materials dependent on low-cost power.

Healthy Progress?

In direct contrast to these comments was that of a private utility representative, who declined to be identified. He told CQ: "It's a healthy development. It should mean more private activity in the power field, and definitely represents a change in direction. I think private companies all over the nation will welcome a trend which takes us away from socialism and toward more local and private power development."

Main lobby group representing private utilities is the National Association of Electric Companies. Its officials and members said they were studying the new policy closely.

Both sides will watch to see whether the new policy will speed completion of pending contracts between the government and private companies for distribution of energy from federal projects. These involve the Southeastern and Southwestern Power Administrations, Bonneville, and rural electric co-ops.

Ionian Isles Suffered Quakes In Homer's Time

WASHINGTON — Earthquakes have shaken the Ionian Islands of Greece for centuries, but few in modern history caused as much damage as the recent ones.

Ithaca, Cephalonia, Zante, and Levkas lie in the zone of greatest earthquake incidence in Greece, the National Geographic Society says. Because of past shocks, most of their houses are wooden.

The islands rise from the Ionian Sea midway along the west coast of the Greek mainland, across the mouth of the narrow gulfs that create the Peloponnese. Along this mountainous chain, Homer's Odyssey was set, and Athenians, Corinthians, and Spartans fought the earliest sea battles of ancient Greece.

Today they are pastoral provinces of the Greek kingdom, where until disaster struck, olives, wine grapes, and currants supported hilly farms and cliff-flanked ports beneath brown, sun-baked mountains rising steeply from the sea.

Sea-Gates Of Greek History

Since Homer's time, when the Ionian Islands lay on the very edge of a supposed flat, platter-shaped world surrounded by the River Oceanus, the islanders have been among the finest sailors of a seafaring nation.

Ithaca's name is one to stir memories. Next to the smallest of the "Seven Islands" that stretch from the Albanian border to the tip of Greece, Ithaca by ancient belief and archeological research holds first claim as the site of the birthplace and royal palace of Odysseus, hero of Homer's epic.

Ithaki is the official name from the modern Greek, not only of the island but of its chief town, known also as Vathi. The Bay of Vathi is generally thought to be where Odysseus landed on his return home. The groto of the Nymphs where he hid his treasure is identified with a limestone cave nearby, and ruins of his palace have been excavated.

Across a narrow channel, to the south and west, lies the largest and highest of the Ionian Islands, Cephalonia or Kefallinia. Here recent reports tell of mountains splitting in two and sliding into the sea, of cities totally destroyed and thousands left homeless.

Shattered Island

Kefallinia is 30 miles long and 15 miles wide at its broadest point. Its highest peak, guarding the southern end, rises more than a mile above the sea.

Argostolion, capital and largest port of Kefallinia, stands on the eastern headland of a long narrow bay indenting the island from the south. Its population in 1950 was 8,500. Seat of a Greek archbishop, it ranks with Vathi among the leading ports of registry of Greece. Across the bay and to the north is its chief rival, Lixourion. Both are said to be destroyed.

Near Argostolion are the famous "sea mills" of Kefallinia, turned not by river or stream but by salt water flowing from the ocean into the land. Powering grist mills that have stood on that spot since 1835, a strange sea current flows some 50 yards straight inland, to disappear finally into natural openings in the rocks. No one knows just where the water goes.

Zante, or Zakynthos officially, has been called the fairest of the Ionian isles. Pliny and Strabo wrote of Zante, just as Virgil sang Ithaca's praises. On Zante was born the Greek poet of liberation, Dionysios Solomos, author of the national anthem of Greece.

Many Rulers

Settled by Ionian immigrants before history was written, the Ionian Islands were the early stopping points of sea traders sailing from the Greek mainland to the boot-heel of Italy.

Northernmost is Corcyra, modern-day Corfu or Kerkira, which has been identified with Homer's Phaeacia whence Odysseus came home to Ithaca. Centuries later, the ships of Corinthians and Romans were to come; French, Turks, Russians, and British ruled this and others of the Ionian Islands. In 1864 they became part of the Greek kingdom. Germans occupied them in World War II.

Levkas is flanked by history and legend. Off its northern shore, in 31 B. C. the lighter, faster fighting ships of Octavian defeated the lumbering fleet of Antony and

Potato Yield Cut By Drouth

CADILLAC (P) — Hopes are fading for a bumper late variety potato crop because of lack of rain for the past 10 days, Northern Michigan potato growers agreed Wednesday. They said quality would remain high, however.

This was the consensus at joint meetings of the Michigan Seed Potato Growers Association and the Michigan Potato Exchange.

Growers had been looking for a bigger than average yield until the dry weather came. Lack of moisture may cut production by as much as 50 bushels an acre in some fields, it was estimated.

Andrew Kline of Stephenson was re-elected president of the seed growers and Charles Cummings, of Barryton, was named president of the exchange.

Cast By Fisherman Saves Drowning Man

SARASTOA, Fla. (P)—An exhausted swimmer who had just saved his two daughters from drowning was himself saved Wednesday by a fisherman who made a perfect cast from the beach.

Chester Fisher, 29, of Sarasota grabbed the line, wrapped it around his wrist just before losing consciousness, and the fisherman reeled him in to safety.

The fisherman got into his car and drove away before Fisher and others of his family could ask his name.

Fisher became exhausted as he and his wife saved two of their daughters, Joan, 8, and Christine, 7, after they were swept into deep water by the tide.
